MOREHEAD STATE PUTS STUDENTS FIRST

WITH ACTIVE RENOVATIONS TO RESIDENCE HALLS, A NEW STUDENT RECREATION CENTER IN THE WORKS AND A GREAT ASSORTMENT OF ON-CAMPUS DINING VENUES, MSU CONTINUES TO UPHOLD ITS COMMITMENT TO ITS STUDENTS.

LIVING ON CAMPUS

Morehead State offers students several options for living on campus. Incoming students have the option of many residence halls that are either two-person or four-person units. Upperclassmen can choose from three apartment-style living residence halls.

Morehead State has begun the process of refurbishing all of its residence halls, beginning with Nunn Hall, which will re-open in Fall 2009. Over the next several years, plans call for all residence halls to be renovated and updated with more modern amenities and state-of-the-art technological updates as well.

STAYING IN SHAPE

The Morehead State University Wellness Center offers students an exceptional facility for workouts. The on-campus facility opened in 1996 and recently expanded in March 2008 to include more equipment and services for students, faculty, staff and retirees. The center also offers an aerobic room, a jogging/walking track, a classroom and three indoor tennis courts. Equipment includes top-of-the-line weight training instruments and cardiovascular units.

Work is scheduled to begin in 2009 for the new $30 million Student Recreation Center. Once completed, the current Wellness Center will be transformed exclusively into a new Student-Athlete Academic Center. The new Student Recreation Center will house state-of-art exercise equipment, a new aquatics facility, and many other exciting and adventurous options for Morehead State students. Meanwhile, MSU student-athletes will benefit from the new dedicated academic facility, which will house classrooms, computer labs and all the modern amenities to help MSU student-athletes achieve their maximum potential and earn their degrees.

ON-CAMPUS DINING

Students have a plethora of options for dining on campus. The newly renovated Marketplace in the Adron Doran University Center offers home-style cooking along with many other fast food and health food options. ADUC also offers students a convenience store and a smoothie and ice cream kiosk, along with stations offering made-to-order Asian food, hamburgers and pizza. Alumni Tower dining center offers students a buffet-style dining experience as well as a delicious salad bar option. Alumni Tower also houses Tony's Convenience Store. Students can choose from a variety of meal plans that suits one's individual dining habits.

BUILDING TOWARDS THE FUTURE

It is an exciting time in the life of Morehead State University as several new building projects have been completed, are nearing completion, or have broken ground. The new $15.4 million, 45,000 square-foot Space Science Center will house the Ronald G. Eaglin Space Science Program, including a space mission control center, a micro/nano fabrication center, space systems development laboratory, and the Digital Star Theatre, a 110-seat multi-functional state-of-the-art digital classroom which will house a 360-degree full dome projection theatre to be used as an instructional tool for MSU students, K-12 students and for planetarium shows designed for the general public. Ground was broken for the facility in 2007 with completion slated for March 2009. MSU is one of only a handful of Space Science curriculum programs in the United States. MSU also recently completed and opened the new Equine Health Education Center as part of the Derrickson Agricultural

Complex. This new, 6,000-square foot building is dedicated to the training of students in modern equine veterinary technology. It is the only dedicated equine medical and surgical facility in the nation that is associated with a stand-alone veterinary technology program. Developed at a cost of more than $800,000, Morehead State now boasts a new molecular core biology research laboratory in Lappin Hall. Morehead State's new lab is one of only a few at a regional public university, and the facility will give MSU students an advantage in the study field of macromolecules, including

DNA research. Ground was also recently broken on MSU's latest building project, the new $30 million Center for Health, Education, and Research, a joint project between MSU, St. Claire Regional Medical Center and the University of Kentucky. The largest construction project in the history of MSU and St. Claire Regional Medical Center, the new facility of 90,237-square feet will house MSU's departments of nursing and imaging sciences, UK's physician assistant program and St. Claire's family medicine clinic and health education center.

THE OHIO VALLEY CONFERENCE

Entering its 61st year, the Ohio Valley Conference continues to build on the success that has made it the nation's eighth-oldest NCAA Division I conference. In 2008, for only the second time in the past decade, the Conference expanded by adding Southern Illinois University Edwardsville as the league's 11th member. The move expanded the OVC's geographical footprint to the St. Louis market and marked the first change in membership since expanding to the state of Alabama (Jacksonville State, Samford) in 2003.

The OVC's proud past dates back to 1948, but seeds for the new league were actually planted in 1941. It was then that Roy Stewart, the athletics director at Murray State, Charles (Turkey) Hughes, the athletics director at Eastern Kentucky, and Kelly Thompson, the public relations director at Western Kentucky, first broached the idea of forming a new conference. Discussions were put on hold by World War II, but reemerged Feb. 27-28, 1948 at the Kentucky Hotel in Louisville as the three original institutions combined with Morehead State, Louisville and Evansville to form the OVC.

In the 1950s, the OVC became a pioneer on a much more significant scale socially. During times of racial segregation, league member Morehead State became one of the first non-traditionally black mid-southern institutions to accept a black student. In 1958, Marshall Banks earned athletically-related aid at Morehead, which signed a second black athlete, Howard Murphy, a year later. In 1961, Murphy earned all-conference recognition as a halfback in football. With racial barriers broken, the rest of the institutions in the league began to provide educational and athletic opportunities to African-Americans.

Through the past 60 years, 14 teams have won or shared the league's football title. The list is led by Eastern Kentucky, winner of 19 outright or shared football crowns, including the 2007 championship when they compiled a perfect 8-0 league record. Former OVC member Middle Tennessee is next with 11, followed by Tennessee Tech with nine, and Murray State and former member Western Kentucky with eight apiece. Eastern Illinois has claimed four football crowns (including winning the title outright in 2005 and sharing the crown with UT Martin in 2006) while Jacksonville State, Morehead State, Tennessee State and former members Evansville and East Tennessee State have captured two apiece. Austin Peay, UT Martin (which captured its first crown in 2006) and former member Youngstown State have one title apiece.

The OVC's first volleyball tournament was held in 1981, the same year Eastern Kentucky began a string of six straight tournament crowns. Former EKV skipper Dr. Geri Polvino compiled a 627-439 record in 32 seasons as head coach of the Colonels, earning OVC Coach of the Year honors eight times. More recently, former Austin Peay coach Cheryl Holt and former Southeast Missouri skipper Cindy Gannon also earned their peers' recognition multiple times with four awards each.

Throughout the last 26 years, 10 different teams have won an OVC regular-season or tournament volleyball crown. Since joining the league in 1991, Southeast Missouri has dominated the scene, winning seven of its eight regular-season titles during the 1990's, including five straight from 1993-97. The Redhawks have also won five tournament crowns (1994, 1996, 1998, 1999 and 2000). Jacksonville State was won back-to-back OVC Tournament Championships (2005, 2006) including going through the OVC undefeated (16-0) in 2006, while Tennessee State claimed its first volleyball tournament championship in 2008.

Following the 2007 season, Jacksonville State's Abbey Breit was named the OVC Offensive Player of the Year for the third straight season, becoming the first player in OVC history to accomplish that feat. Four other individuals - Eastern Kentucky's Angela Boykins (1985-86), Morehead State's Dayle Hammontree (1988-89), Southeast Missouri's Tuba Meto (1996-97) and Morehead State's Amy Almond (2001-02) - were back-to-back winners of the award.

Over its 60 years, OVC teams have garnered national championships and bowl games in football, along with national team or individual titles in the sports of rifle, cross country, track and golf.

The OVC has also produced several Olympic athletes, including Murray State's Morgan Hicks, who was a member of the 2004 United States Olympic Rifle Team. In addition, some of the greatest players in professional sports were educated at OVC institutions. The list includes former greats such as football's Phil Simms (Morehead State), basketball's Clem Haskins (Western Kentucky) and Bubba Wells (Austin Peay) and two-sport star Steve Hamilton (Morehead State) to present-day standouts like basketball player Trenton Hassell (Austin Peay), football player Tony Romo (Eastern Illinois), baseball players Jamie Walker (Austin Peay) and George Sherrill (Austin Peay) and professional golfer Jeff Sluman (Tennessee Tech).

In 2007 the Conference had two teams in the NCAA Women's Soccer Tournament for the first time in league history, former OVC member Samford earned an at-large selection while Southeast Missouri was the Conference's automatic bid.

A first in the OVC occurred in 2008, when the league had a first round draft pick in both the NFL (Tennessee State's Dominique Rodgers-Cromartie) and Major League Baseball (Eastern Kentucky's Christian Friedrich) Drafts in the same school year.

The playing field isn't the only place where OVC athletes are working hard. The league also recognizes excellence in the classroom. Six Scholar-Athlete Awards are presented yearly to male and female athletes, while others are commended for their academic success by being Medal of Honor recipients or earning a spot on the Commissioner's Honor Roll. Additionally, the league annually presents one institutional Academic achievement Award, as well as separate team awards in each Conference-sponsored sport.

The vision of leadership demonstrated by the Founding Fathers in 1948 remains alive today as the Ohio Valley Conference prepares for the future. One example is in regard to the current trend in collegiate athletics administration for increased involvement of university presidents in setting policies and making rules. The presidents of OVC institutions, however, have always governed the Conference, long before presidential governance became a national theme.

The Ohio Valley Conference sponsors the following sports: baseball, basketball, cross country, football, golf, tennis and track for men, and basketball, cross country, golf, soccer, softball, tennis, track and volleyball for women. In addition, the OVC also sponsors the combined men's and women's sport of rifle.

Now in its sixth decade of competition, the Ohio Valley Conference has grown significantly from its humble beginnings while increasing the number of athletics opportunities it provides for students. Current league representatives include charter members Eastern Kentucky University, Morehead State University and Murray State University, along with Austin Peay State University, Eastern Illinois University, Jacksonville State University, Southeast Missouri State University, Southern Illinois University Edwardsville, Tennessee State University, Tennessee Technological University and the University of Tennessee at Martin.

WELCOME to Morehead State University

Meeting the educational needs of East Kentucky while striving to constantly improve the quality of its public service, economic development and applied research programs are the primary objectives of Morehead State University. Historically, the University traces its lineage to the Morehead Normal School, which opened its doors in 1887. The private school closed in the spring of 1922 when the Kentucky General Assembly established Morehead State Normal School. The state institution accepted its first students in the fall of 1923 and graduated its first class in 1927. Name changes occurred in 1926 when "and Teachers College" was added, again in 1930 when it was shortened to Morehead State Teachers College, again in 1948 when "Teachers" was dropped and, finally, to university status in 1966. Thirteen men, starting with Frank C. Button, have served as president. Dr. Wayne D. Andrews assumed office as the 13th president on Jan. 1, 2005.

Academically, the University offers 79 undergraduate degree programs, including 8 associate level degrees and 12 pre-professional programs in four colleges, Business, Education, Caudill College of Humanities and Science and Technology, and the Institute for Regional Analysis and Public Policy and 20 academic departments. There are 55 graduate degree programs plus 24 graduate level non-degree programs designed especially for professional educators. The education specialist in five specialty areas also is offered. A master's degree for physician assistants, social workers and a cooperative doctoral program, all with the University of Kentucky, are available on the MSU campus.

Classes are conducted in Ashland, Jackson, Maysville, Mt. Sterling, Pikeville, Prestonsburg, West Liberty and other locations. Regional campuses located in Ashland, Jackson, Mt. Sterling, Prestonsburg and West Liberty are staffed with full-time directors. Additionally, the University offers a number of distance learning courses throughout the region via the Internet and interactive compressed video.

Sixty-one percent of MSU's 384 full-time faculty members hold doctoral degrees.

Physically, the University is located in the foothills of the Daniel Boone National Forest in Rowan County. The nearly 500-acre main campus within the city limits of Morehead includes more than 50 major structures with a total replacement value of more than $144 million. Beyond the city, the University's real estate holdings include the 320-acre Derrickson Agricultural complex and the par 72, 6,902-yard Eagle Trace Golf Course. The instructional plant includes 120 classrooms and 112 laboratories. Housing facilities include space for approximately 2,600 students in a variety of housing styles including traditional residence halls, suites and apartments.

Fiscally, the University currently operates on an annual budget of $109.8 million with about $44.8 million provided by the state and $45.4 million coming from tuition and fees. Additionally, grants and contracts from external sources for research, service and academic/student support projects generate more than $12 million each year. Annual private donations to the University, through the MSU Foundation, Inc., average $3 million annually.

The University attracts more than 50,000 visitors annually and its economic impact, directly and indirectly, on the Morehead area is estimated at more than $80 million yearly.

Administratively, an 11-member Board of Regents governs the University with eight citizens appointed by the governor and three seats held by elected faculty, staff and student representatives. Management of the institution is vested primarily in six divisions Academic Affairs, Administration and Fiscal Services, Development, Planning, Budgets and Technology, Student Life, and University Relations with each headed by a vice president.

Athletically, the University sponsors 18 intercollegiate sports for men and women in accordance with the regulations of the Ohio Valley Conference, the Pioneer Football League and Division I of the National Collegiate Athletic Association. MSU also supports an intramural program involving more than 25 team and individual sports.

The Sports Medicine Program at Morehead State offers student-athletes the most up-to-date professional services available. Led by head trainer for men's sports Jamey Carver and head trainer for women's sports Sara Larson, the Sports Medicine Department allows athletes a wide range of options for treatment and rehabilitation of injuries.

One of the major support services offered is the main athletic training room located adjacent to Jayne Stadium. The facility contains four whirlpools, four electric stimulators, four ultrasound units and nine treatment tables, along with a variety of other services and equipment. Each athletic team has a full-time or graduate assistant athletic trainer assigned to them, and each of MSU's trainers are fully trained and accredited to perform life-saving and injury treatments. The training staff also utilizes two remote facilities in the Academic-Athletic Center and Wetherby Gym. Both facilities have state-of-the-art equipment.

The training staff also works closely with the Caudill Health Clinic on campus in Allie Young Hall and with St. Claire Regional Medical Center.

JAMEY CARVER, A.T.C.
Head Men's Trainer

Jamey Carver is now in his eighth year on the staff of the athletic department at MSU and was recently promoted to Head Men's Trainer. Carver was a former intern with the Eagle athletic training department before joining the staff full-time. Carver's main responsibility has shifted to football after serving as the men's basketball trainer for several seasons.

A former graduate assistant athletic trainer at University of Kentucky, he earned his masters degree in kinesiology from UK. Carver earned a bachelor's degree in exercise science from Northwestern State University in Natchitoches, Louisiana.

He is married to the former Brandy Morris, a teacher in the Rowan County school system and a former soccer star at MSU. The couple has one daughter, Mia.

SARA LARSON, A.T.C.
Head Women's Trainer

Sara Larson is in her seventh year on the MSU staff and has been promoted to the Head Trainer for Women's Sports. Larson's tenure at Morehead started in the fall of 2002 as a graduate assistant and then she was promoted to Assistant Athletic Trainer in January of 2005.

Her main responsibility includes coverage of women's basketball. Larson also serves as an adjunct professor in MSU's Health Physical Education and Sports Sciences Program.

She earned her master's degree in Health Physical Education and Sports Sciences with an emphasis in Sports Management from MSU in 2004 and earned a bachelor's degree in Nutritional Sciences from University of Missouri in 2002. She is currently pursuing her doctorate from the United States Sport Academy in Sports Medicine Administration.

STRENGTH & CONDITIONING

The strength and conditioning program at Morehead State provides student-athletes with the best possible physical and mental training to help them perform at their peak potential. Under the direction of fourth-year coach Kevin Deweese, the individual sport programs focus on physical and mental training and nutrition for that particular sport as well as particular athletes. Deweese and his staff develop programs that will help athletes reach their maximum potential and prevent injuries.

Athletes have several options for weight training with the centerpiece of the program being the Phil Simms Weight Training Center. Funded by former Morehead State and NFL star quarterback Phil Simms, the center houses weight machines and free weights and is located adjacent to Jayne Stadium. The center has ample space for several teams to train at the same time.

Athletes also utilize the weight center in the Academic-Athletic Center. Free weights, as well as state-of-art machines, are located in the facility.

Stressing the whole body, the strength and conditioning program at Morehead State also helps athletes reach their potential in the fields of agility and speed. Deweese and his staff make sure athletes are ready for game action with speed drills and agility training tailored to each sport. The staff also oversees off-season workouts and nutrition programs to make sure Eagle student-athletes are in-shape when the season begins.

KEVIN DEWEESE
Head Strength & Conditioning Coach

Kevin Deweese is in his fourth year as head strength and conditioning coach at Morehead State. He is in charge of all aspects of physical training and conditioning for all of MSU's 16-sport athletic department. In just a short span, Deweese's programs have already begun to show results as Morehead State athletes have benefited from his knowledge of weight training, physical training and nutrition counseling.

Deweese came to Morehead after serving as an assistant strength and conditioning coach at the University of Tennessee-Chattanooga. With the Mocs' athletic program, he was in charge of several aspects of the overall program for all sports. He was also instrumental in nutrition counseling for UTC's athletic teams.

Prior to UTC, Deweese served as an assistant in the University of Kentucky strength and conditioning program for football from 2003-2005. He was in charge of several facets of the football strength program, including weight training, injury rehabilitation, pre-game preparation and nutrition counseling. In addition, he served as a strength and conditioning intern at UK from 2001-2003, where he directed all aspects of the baseball strength program.

A member of the National Strength and Conditioning Association (CSCS) Deweese graduated from the University of Kentucky in 2004 with a bachelor's degree in kinesiology/exercise science.

NCAA COMPLIANCE ADDRESS

Dear Friends:

Morehead State University is committed to upholding the highest integrity within all procedures and practices of the athletic department. We are pleased to publish this note as a reference to understanding often confusing NCAA regulations. The NCAA defines "representatives of athletic interests" as alumni, friends and boosters of the University. All member institutions are held accountable for their representatives' actions. One violation could jeopardize the eligibility of any or all Eagle athletic programs.

As a general rule, anyone who has financially supported Eagle Athletics, been a member of any booster organization, or who has supported Eagle Athletics is considered a "representative" of Eagle Athletics.

Prospective student-athletes can be defined as a student who has started classes in the ninth grade or any younger student-athlete who has received a benefit from the institution. These individuals may only be recruited by MSU coaches who have passed the NCAA Recruiting Rules Examination. While "representatives" of Eagle Athletics may speak to any of these individuals via telephone or in person, a recruiting effort must not be made. Also, no student-athlete or prospective student-athlete may receive any extra benefit outside of the support provided by the institution. For any questions regarding this description, please contact me at 606-783-5136.

These are certainly not all the regulations any "representative" of Eagle Athletics must remember. However, they provide a good outline of the types of things that could endanger the eligibility of any MSU Athletics program. Again, feel free to contact us if you have any questions. Thanks again for your support of Morehead State Athletics.

Sincerely,

Richard Fletcher

Associate Director of Athletics/Compliance

MOREHEAD and the Gateway Region

Morehead, Ky., is a community of nearly 10,000, nestled in the foothills of the Appalachian Mountains in the Daniel Boone National Forest. It serves as the educational, medical, recreational and cultural center of rural northeast Kentucky and is located in the state's Gateway Area. Morehead also is known as the "Hardwood Capital of the World." Situated on the state's major east-west highway, Interstate 64, Morehead is 58 miles west of Ashland, Ky., and the border of West Virginia, and 66 miles east of Kentucky's second-most populated city, Lexington.

Its centralized location allows many parts of the Eastern and Midwestern United States to be readily accessible. Among the major cities within a day's drive are Washington, D.C.; Baltimore; Charlotte; Raleigh, N.C.; Atlanta; Knoxville, Tenn.; Nashville; Cincinnati; Dayton, Ohio; Columbus, Ohio; Cleveland; Pittsburgh; Indianapolis; Detroit; Chicago; St. Louis; Memphis; Birmingham, Ala.; and Louisville, Ky.

Located in the heart of Rowan County, Morehead affords a wealth of activities for the outdoorsman. Just six miles from downtown is beautiful 8,270-acre, man-made Cave Run Lake, an area nationally-known for its recreation opportunities and the fifth-largest body of water in Kentucky. Hiking, biking, swimming, boating, fishing, water skiing, canoeing, bird watching, camping or enjoying the solitude of nature are some of the highlights of the activities at Cave Run Lake. The lake is known as the "Muskie Fishing Capital of the South" and hosts numerous tournaments each year. Daniel Boone National Forest, within which Cave Run Lake is entirely located, is visited by over five million people annually, and Morehead also is home to the Minor E. Clark Fish Hatchery, the largest fresh water fish hatchery in the U.S.

| CAVE RUN LAKE |

| KENTUCKY FOLK ART CENTER |

Carter Caves, just 25 miles from Morehead in nearby Carter County, is another popular outdoor spot just a short drive down I-64. The historic town of Maysville, Ky., a major stopover point on the Civil War-era Underground Railroad, is located 45 minutes north on the Ohio River, and offers more entertainment options.

Golf is another popular outdoor activity in Morehead. Two courses are within county limits. Eagle Trace Golf Course is an 18-hole, par-72 course, which has hosted both the state's men's and women's amateur championship and has been given four stars by Golf Digest. Sheltowee Trail Golf Course is open to the public and offers inexpensive opportunities which can challenge players of all skill levels.

What about arts and crafts? Morehead is also home to the Kentucky Folk Art Center, the only center of its kind in the state dedicated to the skills of untrained artisans. Also unique to Morehead is the Kentucky Center for Traditional Music, a facility dedicated to preserving the rich history of traditional Bluegrass, folk and Americana music. Many of the area's best trade and music shows are housed in the new Morehead Conference Center. For fine art, stop by the Pine Grove Gallery on Bride Avenue or the Claypool-Young Art Gallery, located on MSU's campus. Several local craft and antique shops are dotted throughout the community as well.

If you're interested in festivals, June and September are a busy time in Morehead, when the festival season is in full swing. Among the annual events, the area hosts the Day in the Country Folk Art Show and Sale, Cave Run Storytelling Festival, Harvest Festival, Poppy Mountain Festival, Bluegrass and More Festival, Appalachian Arts and Crafts Fair, and Hometown Holidays plus numerous horse shows.

Morehead also has an outstanding theatre guild for those who are looking for other cultural experiences. The group puts on productions throughout the year. Morehead State University also annually hosts concerts from nationally-prominent bands of all musical genres.

In addition, there are several restaurant and shopping options, including many in the renovated downtown area.

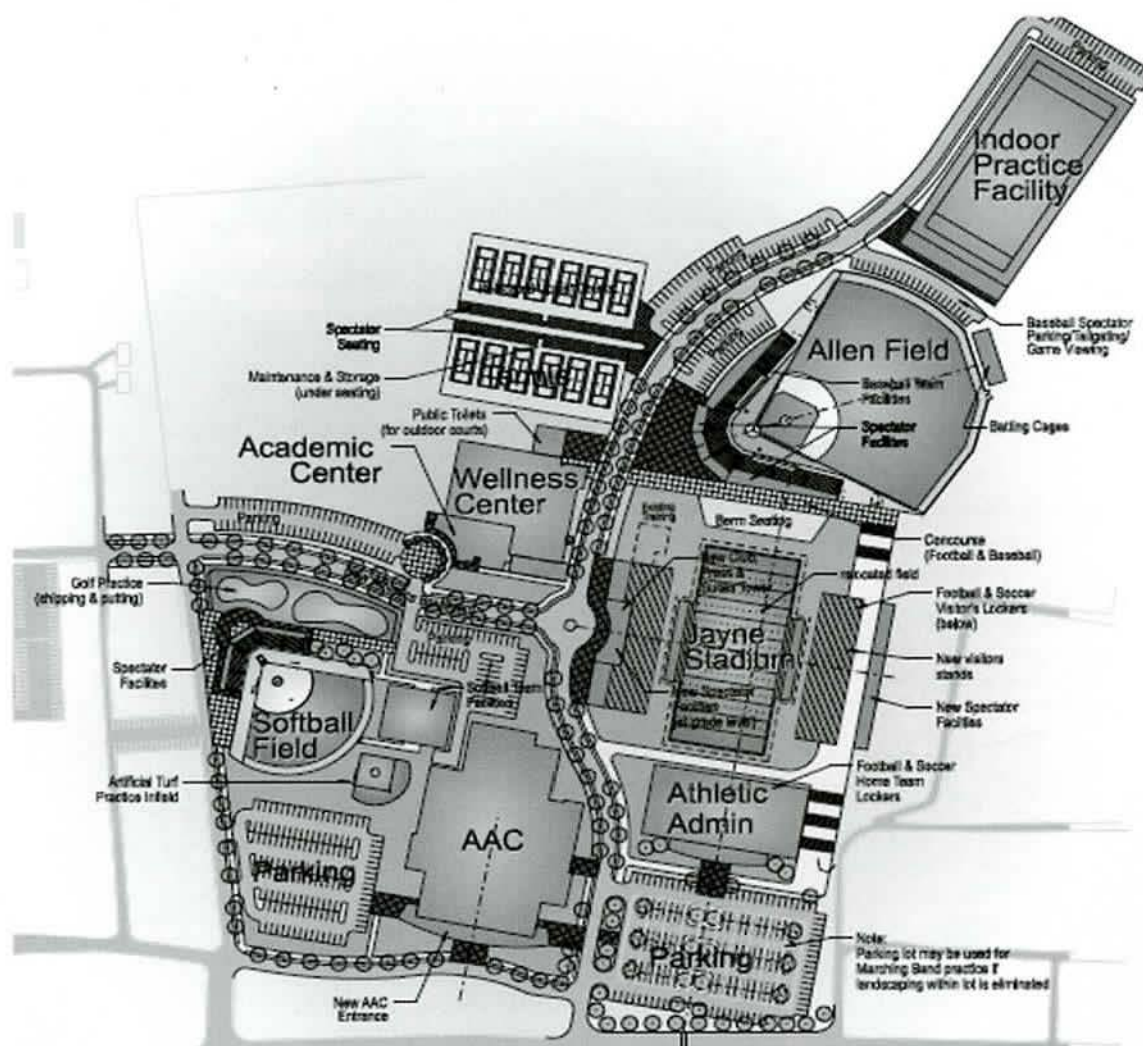

CINCINNATI, OHIO

Less than three hours from Morehead, Cincinnati and Northern Kentucky provide a plethora of tourist activities, professional sports and exciting nightlife. From Reds' games at Great American Ballpark to Bengals' games at Paul Brown Stadium to the new Newport Aquarium, Morehead State students will enjoy the proximity of one of America's most diverse and exciting metropolitan areas. The "Queen City" is also home to some of the most interesting museums in the United States, and boasts a great nightlife scene.

LEXINGTON, KENTUCKY

Located just an hour from Morehead and Rowan County is Kentucky's second most populated city, Lexington. Known worldwide as a mecca for thoroughbred horse enthusiasts, the Lexington area is home to the famous Kentucky Horse Park and Keeneland Racetrack. Lexington also offers a variety of shopping venues, including the newly renovated Fayette Mall and the Hamburg Pavilion Center. Lexington also offers a great nightlife scene as well as professional baseball and professional indoor football.

PROPOSED ATHLETIC FACILITY EXPANSION

A VISION FOR THE FUTURE

Morehead State's Athletic Facility Master Plan

Through administrative and athletic leadership at Morehead State, a study of athletics facilities commenced in the winter of 2006 to identify a plan that would guide decisions made by MSU Athletics well into the 21st century. Heery International, acclaimed architects and facilities planners, was selected to complete the study.

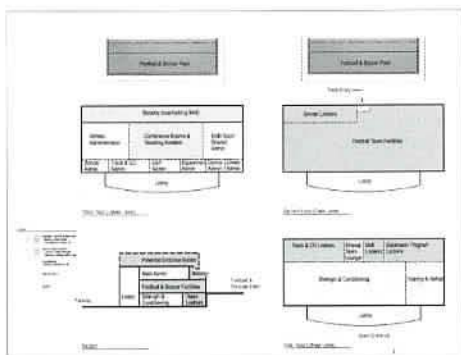

All potential constituent groups were consulted throughout the process. While MSU has much to be proud of, it became quite apparent that significant work should be done to improve the physical athletics plant.

The drawing you see here provides a map of what is to come. In all, over $89 million of work was identified and encompasses five new facilities and five renovated facilities. The first scheduled work will be the renovation of the University's Wellness Center into a state-of-the-art Athletics Academic Resource Building.

For more information or if you'd like to help MSU realize these goals, please contact MSU Director of Athletics Brian Hutchinson at b.hutchinson@moreheadstate.edu or at 606-783-2089.

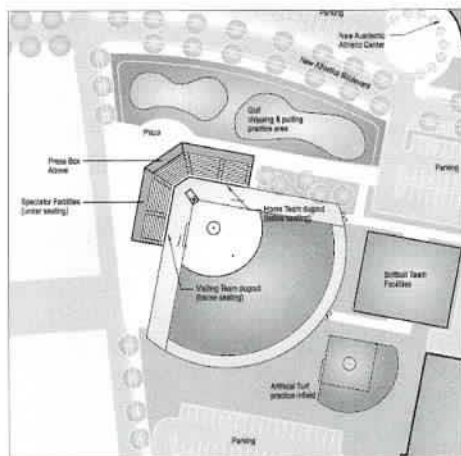

A VISION FOR THE FUTURE

Morehead State's Athletic Facility Master Plan

NEW ADMINISTRATION BUILDING

The new administration building will be located on the south end of Jayne Stadium and will house all administrative offices, most coach's offices and football team facilities. The building will also house soccer and cross country locker rooms and serve as the site to strength and conditioning activities and the sports medicine operation.

SOFTBALL FACILITIES

A new softball stadium will be built on the North-west side of the current Academic-Athletic Center. The facility will have home and visiting locker rooms and a spacious press box. Also planned is a softball team locker room facility as well as an artificial turf infield practice area for use by all outdoor teams. Behind the new stadium a golf chipping and putting green is also in the plan to be constructed.

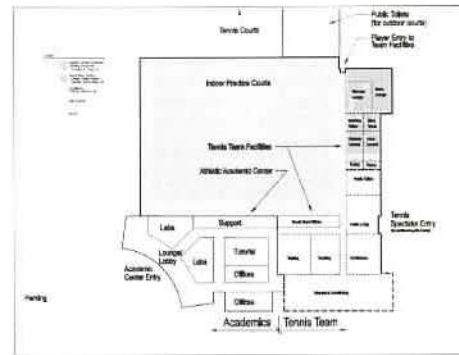

JAYNE STADIUM

Completely renovated with new grandstand seating on the home sideline as well as a new press/luxury box tower atop the home sideline grandstand. The new press tower will house a spacious press work area, the President's Box as well as space for luxury boxes and a club seating area. Visitor locker rooms will be renovated, and the visitor sideline grandstands will be completely renovated. The road leading into Jayne Stadium will be re-routed and will serve as an entrance to the new athletic complex. The current track will be removed, and the home sideline grandstands will also be moved closer to the field, giving fans excellent sightlines and a feel of being closer to the action.

BASEBALL FACILITIES

The Allen Field grandstand will be re-constructed and modernized, and plans are to extend the current right field "short porch" area to a more-spacious field area. A new press box will be built atop the grandstand.

ACADEMIC CENTER

The first phase of the plan, already under way, is the expansion of the current Wellness Center to become the new Academic Center. Once completed, it will house computer labs, offices and study halls and will be a valuable asset to the academic success of Morehead State's student-athletes.

INDOOR PRACTICE FACILITY

The indoor practice facility will be located on the present site of University Softball Field and will serve as a valuable practice facility for all of MSU's teams.

TENNIS FACILITIES

The current Sadler Courts will be renovated. The new facility will have 12 lighted courts and ample stadium seating for spectators. Team facilities as well as ample storage and restroom facilities will be located in the expanded Academic Center adjacent to the courts.
